Consulting and Production Rates

Goals

I aim to attain an engaging relationship with my playwrights to encourage their own discoveries and prepare them for their final drafts in order to cultivate creative exciting new work.

I aim in production work to develop research, playbills, and additional material in rehearsal that push the work forward in order to collaborate with artistic teams effectively and productively. The work I do always aspires to produce a show to its fullest fruition as an artistic sounding board for informative and inventive ideas of the play or musical in focus with the rest of the cast and crew..
